

The indicated moments and forces are statical values, apply for each base jaw and should not appear simultaneously. Loads may additionally occur to the moment produced by the gripping force itself.